

WISDOM YEARS WEEKEND

For men, reaching the age of 50 can be more than a milestone. It can also signal an important life transition, one that brings both new concerns and new opportunities. The Wisdom Years Weekend helps men address the one and seize the other.

Through group discussion and other activities, men are encouraged to look thoughtfully at the second half of adult life as they face some of its most profound questions:

- How to live later years with authenticity, intentionality, health, and connection?
- How to best respond to changing roles at work and at home?
- How to maintain and express a vital sense of purpose and impact in the world?
- How to balance hope for continued connection, productivity, and growth against fear of loneliness, decline, and death?

The Wisdom Years Weekend helps men to search their past, shed its self-defeating burdens, emerge into a new sense of anticipation about their future, and commit to a plan of action. Honest relationships and heightened self-awareness are at the heart of the weekend, where men come together in a spirit of respect, safety, confidentiality, and hope.
