

COUPLES WORKSHOP

TAKE TIME TO CONNECT WITH YOUR PARTNER

COUPLES CONNECTING

The sense of wholeness we all seek as individuals takes place best within a loving and conscious relationship. The Couples Connecting workshop helps couples observe and practice specific skills and processes to connect more honestly and lovingly with each other. Participants will learn about the natural “life cycle” of a relationship and how to nurture and maintain healthy intimacy within the ebb and flow of their relationship. Couples will also be guided in how to keep the “sacred fire” of their connection flourishing after they leave the workshop (and have some fun along the way!).

Helping men realize and appreciate their natural ability to be sensitive participants in the primary relationships has always been a fundamental purpose of the Victories program. This workshop will provide essential understanding of relationship dynamics. It will also demonstrate and give time to practice valuable skills for maintaining a truly nourishing and loving relationship.

This workshop is open to all couples in a committed relationship. This workshop is not marital therapy and is not appropriate for couples in crisis or with serious marital discord. This weekend is appropriate for couples wanting to deepen their connection and communication.
